as by day the approaching aircraft cannot always know with certainty whether it is intended to attack the defence positions from the above direction, it should, if in doubt, assume that it is an attacking aircraft and keep out of the way.

(2) Above by day of these rules one of the two aircraft to be kept out of the way, the other shall keep the other well apart. When, in consequence of which weather or other causes, the aircraft leaving the right of way finds itself in such close proximity as to be liable for the action of the group-way aircraft, it shall take such action as will best serve to avert collision.

(3) Every aircraft which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another aircraft shall, if the circumstances of the case permit, avoid coming within of the other and shall not give way during.

(4) No aircraft on land or water shall be required shall attempt to take off until there is no risk of collision with existing aircraft or with other aircraft, or so in the vicinity of the landing area.

(5) Risk of collision on air traffic routes.—In order to obviate the increased risk of collision with a group on air traffic routes, the following provisions shall, so far as it is safe and practicable, be observed when flying on or in the vicinity of such routes, namely:—

(a) Every aircraft when flying by compass along the straight line (which last passing two points as an air traffic route in either case, shall keep such line at least 100 yards on its left.

(b) Every aircraft following an air traffic route, which has been officially recognized, shall keep such route at least 100 yards on its left.

(c) Every aircraft within the vicinity of a route designated by aircraft, in following a line of land marks such as a path, railway, road, creek or stream, etc., shall keep such line of landmarks at least 100 yards on its left.

(d) An aircraft shall not by keeping any of the lines or points above referred to on its right, except at a distance therefrom sufficient to avoid collision following such line or route in accordance with these rules.

(e) Where crossing any of these lines or routes above referred to, an aircraft shall cross it at right angles in so far as possible and as high as reasonably practicable.

(f) In the case of flight in group formation the aircraft at the leader of the group shall be responsible for the leading flight in such a manner that every aircraft in the group can comply with the above rules.

Article IV.—Bufted.

Article V.—General Rules for Air Traffic on and in the vicinity of Aerodromes open to public use.

115. General.—If a flying machine or glider starting from, or about to land at, an aerodrome makes a circuit or partial circuit, the landing—

(a) In the case of a land aerodrome, must be made clear of the landing area and must be followed (anticlockwise) so that during the circuit the landing area shall always be on its left; and

(b) In the case of a water aerodrome, must be followed (anti-clockwise).

116. Minimum flying altitude.—

(1) Subject to the provisions of any special order by the Governor General in Council in regard to flying machines or gliders shall not fly over the landing area of an aerodrome at a lower height than 200 feet, in the case of a land aerodrome, or 200 feet in the case of a water aerodrome, except when departing therefrom or landing thereon.

(2) Every flying machine or glider flying outside the landing area of an aerodrome at a distance of less than 2 miles from the nearest point of that area shall, unless it is flying at a greater height than 200 feet, in the case of a land aerodrome, or 200 feet in the case of a water aerodrome, keep the landing area on its left.

117. Avoidable landings, etc.—Aerodrome landings are prohibited at aerodromes. Except with the written permission of the authority in charge of the aerodrome where Article 115 is given under there is no risk of interference with other aircraft and except in accordance with the conditions specified in such permission, flying machines and gliders are prohibited from alighting or alighting in the vicinity of aerodromes at a distance of less than 2 miles from the nearest point of the aerodrome the aerodrome unless they are flying at a greater height than 200 feet.

(2) Where a landing T is used, it shall be placed so that the study of the T, seen along the direction of the wind and the wind will be across the windward end of the T.

(3) If there is no wind, the landing T, if used, shall be fixed in the direction in which landings are dependent on is to be made.

(4) The fact that there is no wind and that the landing T is fixed on a downwind may be indicated by a ball suspended on a mast in the signal area and clearly visible both to aircraft in flight and to those transiting the landing area.

(5) If the top area of the landing area of any land aerodrome requires permission to be observed on landing, that fact may be indicated by a red square placed partly covered by yellow triangular panels so as to show a red triangle towards the side of which permission has been given.

(6) If an aerodrome is temporarily closed to aircraft owing to special circumstances, that fact may be indicated by a red square panel with the message "closed" painted by yellow rectangular panels arranged in the form of an X.

(7) Where a red panel is used for the purpose of this rule—

Direction of take-off or landing.—Every flying machine or glider when taking off or landing on an aerodrome shall do so as directed, except when the special conditions of the aerodrome do not permit, or in the event of there being no wind. In the latter case, the flying machine or glider when taking off or landing, shall do so in the direction indicated by an appropriate symbol, or if there is a landing T, in the direction indicated by that T.

120. Aircraft approaching to land.—

(1) Aircraft about to land on an aerodrome shall be kept free way.

(2) In the case of two flying machines or two gliders approaching an aerodrome for the purpose of landing, the flying machine or glider, as the case may be, flying at the greater height shall be responsible for avoiding the flying machine or glider at the lower height, and shall so regulate landing course the provisions of sub-articles (3) and (7) of rule 115 for landing.

121. Aircraft taking off.—No aircraft shall move on to the landing area of an aerodrome during a general circuit, nor proceed to take off except in accordance with the signals specified in rule 116.

(b) The landing area shall be as large as possible;

(c) Every flying machine or glider, when landing or taking off, shall do so in conformity with the provisions of rule 118, and shall move clear of the landing area of any aerodrome where it has been landed, or which is taking off, as soon as it is clear.

(d) Every flying machine or glider moving on the ground in the landing area shall do so in the direction of landing.

Provided that no aerodrome approved by the Governor General in Council for the purpose, flying machines and gliders moving on the ground may be restricted to cross the landing area, subject to regulations approved by the Governor General in Council.
